Q10: CURRENT SYSTEM OF COUNCIL TAX: To what extent does the current system of council tax deliver a fair and effective system of local taxation in Scotland? Are there any features of the current system that you wish to see retained or changed? Please illustrate your answer with any examples from your own experience.

I do not think it is at all fair. It is a property tax, not based on ability to pay. As a pensioner couple on a fixed income we pay as much as local families with 5 working adults.

The system would be fairer as a local income tax based entirely on ability to pay. Assistance should be available for families on low incomes as is current practice now.

The valuation of properties is neither up to date nor does it take into account personal circumstances.

Pensioners living alone on low fixed incomes can find paying council tax difficult especially if they have lived in a family home for many years

Q11: REFORM OF LOCAL TAXATION: Are there alternatives to the current system of council tax that you think would help to reform local taxation in Scotland? What are the main features of these, and why do you think they would deliver improvement? Do you have any examples of why this is the case?

Q12: LOCAL PRIORITIES: How well do you think that communities' local priorities are accounted for in the way that local taxation operates at the moment? If there is room for improvement, how should things change? Do you have any ideas or examples about how this could improve people's lives?

I am not sure I have the answer to this question. In areas of deprivation I presume the needs of communities are greater than the budget available. Funding to local councils should be based on local need rather than simply on available funds.
